Student Employability - From Learning to Earning

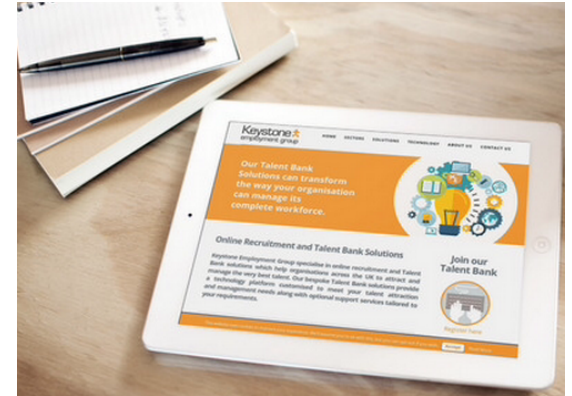

50 Years experience in recruitment services

Good presence across B2B and B2P

Evolved from traditional agency to online solutions provider

Leading provider of Talent Bank solutions in Education sector

Approved supplier to LUPC and SUPC

HEI's have recognised the need to provide students with more than academic qualifications to attract intake

Employers demand graduates with employable skills- not just a degree

Students expect more for their tuition fees

Aim is to produce well educated graduates better equipped to land jobs and contribute to economy.

Provide students with meaningful work experience

Tap into student talent pool rather than costly external recruitment

Link businesses and employers with student base

Provide a meaningful and validated record of their student journey and employability skills

Arm students with skills and experience to attract employers

Connects an organisation with bespoke pool of talent

Supports student employability

Provides an online in-house recruitment service

Provides rich MI/reporting

Full audit trail of the student journey

Provides the student with a validated Professional Employability Profile (PEP) to compliment their HEAR and CV

Universities and their business partners post job vacancies, work experience, assignments etc

Search the talent pool of available and suitable students

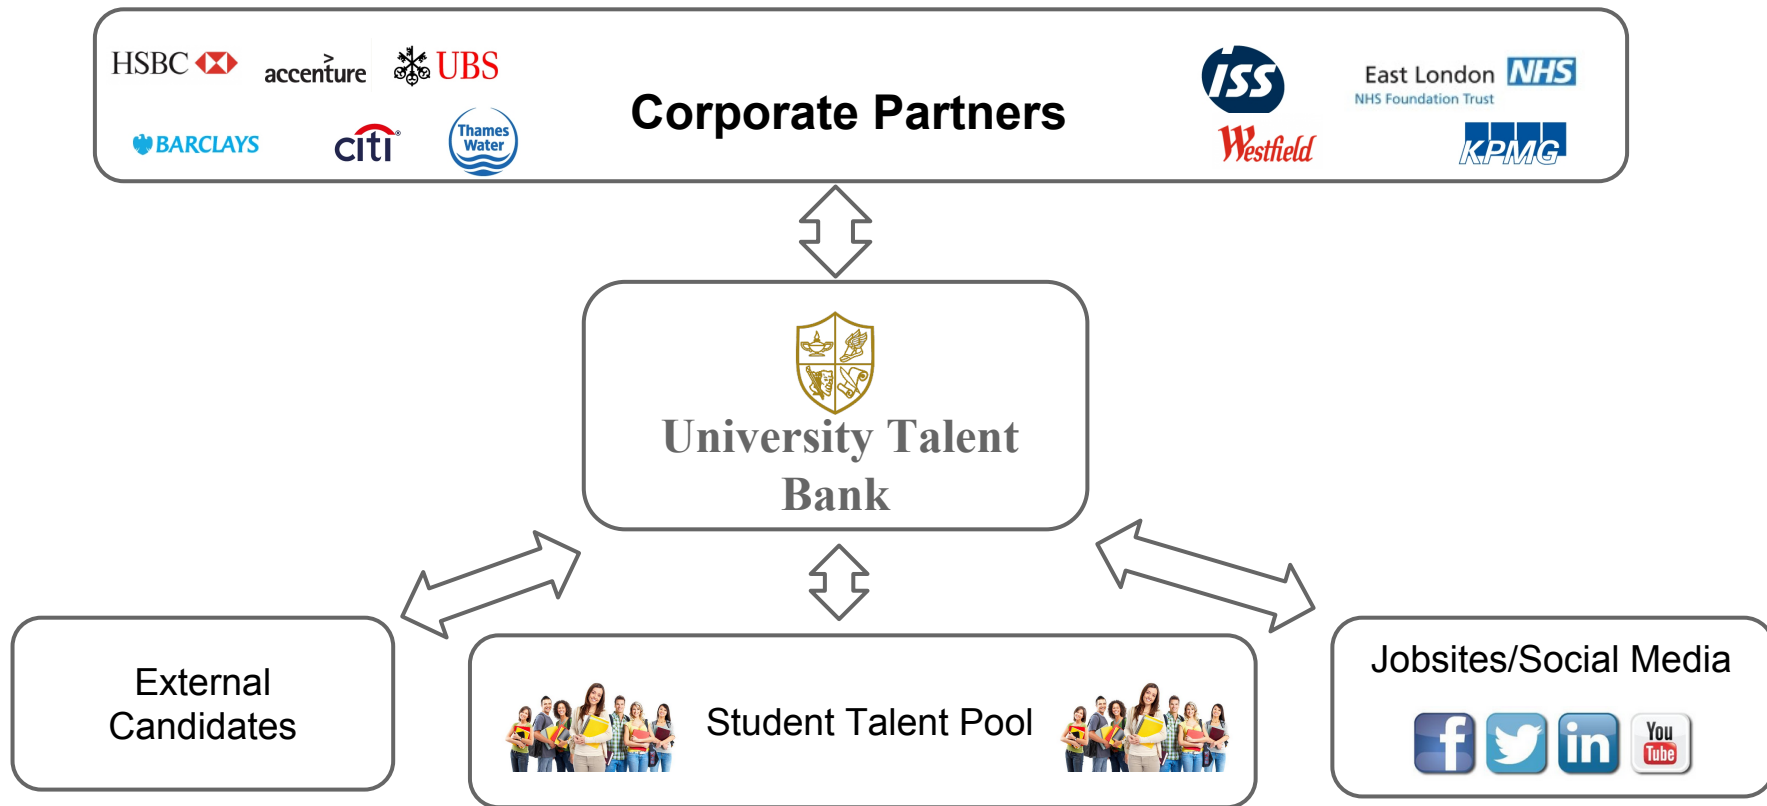

Also search for external candidates at no extra cost

Automatically update a student's PEP profile with experience and achievements

All compliance, onboarding and payroll managed if required

Personal Statement

I am an exceptionally organised, reliable and motivated worker, with experience of customer-facing roles, both face-to-face and via telephone and email. I have experience in the insurance industry, having had roles within a small but very busy corporate dental insurance department. I became a highly valued member of this team, always completing tasks with a high level of accuracy and taking an active role in organising daily and weekly tasks for our administration team. I also have experience within the catering industry, having worked in both a cafe environment and as a waitress at more formal functions, including weddings. I am currently a member of a small and successful pub team, using this part-time role to fund my studies, as well as enjoying the interaction with both staff and public. I am currently studying part-time at King's College London for an MA in Ancient History and hope to follow this into the heritage sector, as this is my main interest and passion in life.

Personal Statement

I am currently studying Biomedical Sciences degree in university. I'm a hard working, bubbly person that loves working with the public to the highest standards. I have been working in retail and customer-based jobs for around 2 years. I have customer service experience, administration experience, fluent English and experience in team work to achieve goals and cash-handling. I have done extracurricular activities including being a peer mentor to new year 7's and been a school council president for 3 years. I currently am a student ambassador for London Metropolitan University. Being a student gives me an advantage for being flexible for part-time work.
